The new South Bay Post Office opened for business March 29

South Bay has had the same Post Office for the past 29 years and finally, the city has outgrown the facility.
The new South Bay Post Office opened its doors for business Monday, March 29.
The building, located at 190 U.S. 27 South, has a 4800 square-foot interior, 32 customer parking spaces, and 16 employee parking spaces.
"We outgrew our old facility. The parking area was quite small, the facilities were outdated, and we were crowded," said South Bay Postmaster Thomas Williams.
"We would not have gotten approval for a new office had the need not been there," Williams added.
Mr. Williams requested a new office through the Orlando District, who approved the request and then forwarded the request to Atlanta, Ga., for final approval. After approval from superiors and building permits from the city of South Bay, RW Custom Builders, contractors out of Daytona, began construction.
Construction began in late October 1995 and South Bay accepted the building on March 26, 1996.
"This facility is a tremendous asset for the people of South Bay and we are very proud of it," boasted Williams.
The Box lobby at the new South Bay Post Office is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
Customer service is open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday from 8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m. and on Wednesdays from 8:30 a.m. - 12 noon and also 2 p.m. - 5 p.m.
Mr. Williams has been in the postal service 44 years, serving as Postmaster of South Bay's Post Office since 1966.

A dozen do's and don'ts
What every common food (that almost all Americans eat) is considered Heart Disease Enemy No. 1? Red meat is the single largest source of fat and saturated fat in the average American's diet. But the worst offender of all, according to the June 1996 issue of Nutrition Action, is ground beef, or the lowly hamburger. Unlike many meats, you can't trim the fat off hamburgers. You can't buy truly low-fat ground beef, so your arteries remain clogged. Try ground turkey breast if it doesn't contain any skin, for a low-fat alternative.

Rule #1 - Don't eat ground beef and other fatty meats.

Rule #2 - Don't eat even lean red meat more than three times a week. Gone are the days when we Americans expected meat at every meal.

A growing body of concern in the medical community suggests that even lean red meats, but not poultry or seafood, may increase the risk of cancer and possibly prostate cancer.

Rule #3 - Eat "plants-only" dinners at least three times a week. This means no meat, seafood, poultry, cheese, or eggs. Eating more vegetables may reduce your risk of a host of cancers, like colon, lung, stomach, mouth, throat, pancreas, and bladder, and also lower your risk of heart disease and stroke to boot. Bean dishes can be used to replace the nutrients in the meat you did without; and spaghetti with red sauce is good too.

Rule #4 - Make nearly all your snacks fruits and vegetables. The National Cancer Institute recommends that people eat at least five to nine servings of fruits and vegetables a day. The phytochemicals, fiber, folic acid, and potassium in them may also help reduce your risk of heart disease and stroke. We in Florida are lucky to have long seasons where fresh fruit is readily available...now we need to learn to eat them in the right amounts.

Rule #5 - Switch to low-fat or fat-free milk

New general membership meeting scheduled for ACT

Only five Actors' Community Theatre members were present for the May meeting held at the Clewiston Public Library. Because of a number of scheduling conflicts and poor attendance, another general membership meeting has been scheduled for June 16 at 3 p.m. at the Clewiston Senior Citizens' Center near John B. Boy Auditorium.

Members are reminded that due are to be paid to Johanna Huss as soon as possible. Membership forms are also available for any new members; they need only contact Kaye Lasagna at 941-983-5457.

The club is pleased to announce the names of two new members, John Merkel and Cathi Mitchell. Merkel recently took part in the most recent production, "If A Man Answers", and Mitchell runs a print shop in LaBelle.

Club president, Kaye Lasagna, encourages all old and new members to be present at the June 16 meeting to discuss the up and coming season of shows. Three shows to be considered are "Two by Two", "Charlie's Aunt" and "Here Comes the Bride". The number of plays selected for the coming season will depend upon the number of persons present at this meeting.

New technology impacts hurricane forecasting

By Mike Lyons

They knew it was coming. The Seminole Indians saw the signs in the Everglades: the rabbits were searching for higher ground, the birds stopped singing, the alligators barked with unusual frequency.

The River of Grass itself was changing, too: the saw grass was blooming at an unusually tall height. Indian tradition said that the top of the grass indicated the depth of the water.

The Seminoles knew a massive hurricane was headed toward Florida but no one else did not even the weather forecasters. The hurricane of 1926 was one of the worst storms to hit Miami. Scores of people were injured and killed. Damage from the storm was extensive.

But, the hurricane didn't stop in Miami. It headed west toward the Everglades, crossing over the Indian's former home-joint as the Seminoles had predicted. The white men of Miami lost everything while the Seminole Indians lost nothing. They knew the storm was coming.

These days, thanks to satellites, radars and sophisticated computers, all of us will know when the hurricane is coming. But, that doesn't mean predicting the future path of tropical systems has gotten any easier.

It's Bob Burpee's job to know where those storms are and where they are headed. Burpee, in his second year as Director of the National Hurricane Center, says his staff did a "great job" last year.

"They made some excellent forecasts in 1995," he said.

The staff certainly had many opportunities to practice their craft last year. Not only was it an extremely busy season but there were several periods last summer when multiple storms were wandering the ocean. At one point, two hurricanes and two tropical storms, were churning through the Atlantic Ocean at the same time.

Forecasting the future path and intensity of a storm has always been a challenge. Tropical systems are inherently unpredictable yet each year the professionals at the National Hurricane Center get a little bit better at their job. "Our ability to improve our hurricane forecasts is improving about one percent per year," he said.

That accuracy rate is expected to increase even more this year with the addition of a Gulfstream IV executive jet. "The jet will fly on the periphery of hurricanes," Burpee said. "It will obtain observations throughout the depth of the atmosphere and relay those observations to the National Hurricane Center."

Unlike the famous Hurricane Hunters that fly through a storm, the Gulfstream will examine the atmosphere above and around the hurricane. It's important information that Burpee believes will make a big difference in predicting the future track and intensity of a storm.

"We believe with those observations that we can improve our forecasts perhaps slightly faster than the one percent rate," he said. The new jet will be ready to fly in August—the beginning of the peak of the hurricane season.

This new technology should have a significant impact on hurricane forecasting. Now all of us, not just the Seminole Indians, will know when the big one is coming.

Mike Lyons is the weatherman for WPBF, Channel 25.

Three Pahokee High School students attending summer programs

For Pahokee High School students just because school is ending doesn't mean their education is. There are three outstanding students who are spending their summers learning about the science and math fields; and one out of the three is actually going to get paid for going to school!

Latisha Jones, currently a sophomore at Pahokee High School, was chosen to attend the eight week N.A.S.A. Sharp Plus Program. This summer research apprenticeship program was initiated on the basis of minority students more involved on the field of science. Latisha will be flown to Baton Rouge, Louisiana where she will then go to Southern University. The program provides round trip transportation, housing and meals, plus a salary of $4.75 per hour for a 40 hour week. Latisha will get the opportunity to live on a college campus and work with a research/mentor who will teach her all about the profession. During her apprenticeship, she will be assigned research assignments, reports, oral presentations and will participate in a variety of enrichment activities. As a requirement Latisha will report, based on her research, that will be given to N.A.S.A., and will also be required to participate in a community service project upon her return to school in the fall.

Two of the other notable students participating in the summer programs are freshman, Lashaundra Wilson and Ricardo Turrie. They will be attending a five week summer transportation institute program at P.A.M.U. the main focus of this program is to get students involved in the transportation industry by exposing them to the science, math and technical fields. Along with all of this they also get to go on many great field trips: Jacksonville International Airport, The Caverns, The Skyway Bridge and Port Authority Museum are just to name a few.

Don't Let Panic Hold You Hostage!

New Treatment Options Provide Hope For Millions!

Panic and anxiety disorders are the nation's most common mental health problem, affecting more than 28 million Americans a year. Symptoms might include racing heartbeat, dizziness, unreasonable fears, excessive worrying, difficulty breathing, sweating and feeling constantly tense.

To people who are suffering from anxiety and panic disorders, anxiety becomes a powerful dictator in their everyday lives and can make it difficult to work or participate in activities that were once enjoyable. It can make people act irrationally and make living a normal life virtually impossible. At the State University of New York at Albany, which is the largest research center in the world on anxiety disorders, Dr. David Barlow has spent ten years developing a successful treatment program. Dr. Barlow's clinical research demonstrates that 80 to 90 percent of the people who consistently apply themselves to the program become panic free and maintain those results for up to 24 months (the length of time for which there is research data).

Columbia Anxiety and Panic Treatment Centers are now offering Dr. Barlow's program right here in the western community. All of the cognitive behavioral therapists have been extensively trained to administer Dr. Barlow's program by following strict protocols and procedures. By adhering to these training guidelines, the clinicians are able to achieve the same 80 to 90 percent success rate demonstrated by Dr. Barlow's program.

If you or a loved one suffers from any of these symptoms, please call the Columbia Anxiety & Panic Treatment Center today to arrange an evaluation.

Swiss Scientists Discover New Energy Product

Lugan, Switzerland—After 25 years of research, Swiss scientists have discovered a new energy product. The product, called "Lighting 88," is now available in the United States. Scientists are amazed at "Lighting 88's" results on improved memory, athletic and academic performance.

In a double blind cross-over trial on university students in Italy, "Lighting 88" was given twice daily for 12 weeks. The results were astonishing. Students obtained higher scores in math, logic and physical education.

This new discovery has been a windfall for working and active people that need to run short of energy around mid-afternoon and need a little extra lift. "Lighting 88" when taken in the morning gives a sustained, balanced form of energy throughout the day.

During an interview in Chicago, a biochemist stated, "I used to go home exhausted after working on my first day. Now it's just incredible. I go home with extra energy and really enjoy my family more." "Lighting 88" is a necessary boost for students, professionals and senior citizens. "Lighting 88" is now available at most K-Mart Pharmacies including:

Caller wants more answers

"I wish to respond to Chief Miller's response to 'Public at fault for not speaking out.'"

Chief Miller repeatedly states that "X numbers of uniformed police officers are available." How many available officers are on a shift, leave the station for calls, and are actual patrolmen?

He speaks of "average response time." This could mean one call's response time was two minutes due to the officer's proximity, and another call's response time could be 15 minutes because the patrolman is all the way across town. I would like to know how many he has, how many patrolmen he has on each squad, and how many squads on each shift.

I would also like to know who these Rookie (graduates of PBOC) are supposed to be learning from, since the majority of the police department's officers have no more than two years experience in Belle Glade. How are they supposed to absorb the ways and people of the community, when the "experienced" officers do not possess this insight?

I want to know why we are unable to hire experienced police officers and keep the ones we hire. I know we have a tough town, but this is ridiculous. Not only is the town tough, but so is the police department.

If we could get good people who are good cops into our town and appreciate the ones we have, this town could be a nice place to live and work once again.

I would also like to know why we have eligible experienced cops who are not filling the available positions. Also, what are the "obvious security reasons" and "criteria" he speaks of?

I do not appreciate his patronization and word games.

P.S. I would also like to include the fact that the lower the amount of patrolmen responding to a call, the higher the personal risk for the patrolman...just like the fire department.

Thanks for listening.
A concerned and hopeful citizen."

Chief Miller responds: One again, thank you for the opportunity to provide correct information.

1) All police officers mentioned in the previous response to Speak Out are on shift, leave the station for patrol, and are available to respond to calls.

2) The administration and training staff of the Belle Glade Police Department have a total of 198 years of experience in law enforcement in the City of Belle Glade. Additionally, many of us are graduates of the top law enforcement schools in the United States, including two graduates of the FBI National Academy.

3) All police officers and firefighters are required to live in the City of Belle Glade.

4) The City of Belle Glade is indeed a challenging community, however, I am very proud of the good men and women who have chosen to live and work in the City of Belle Glade as police and fire professionals. It is my opinion that the vast majority of the citizens of Belle Glade are thankful and appreciate the dedication of these public safety officers. I appreciate the concerns of all the citizens of Belle Glade and it is my intention to be responsive to these concerns. As always, this caller and any citizen of Belle Glade are welcome at any time to come to my office to discuss any matters of mutual interest.

What a great day

To Mr. Nelson Fairbanks:

On behalf of the employees at U.S. Sugar Corporation, I wanted to take the time to say thank you for a wonderful time at the Family Fun Day Picnic!

It truly was a day of "family fun!"

More on the traffic lights

This is in reference to the two questions that a certain person had last week about the railroad tracks on Avenue L and about taking the light down in front of Osceola Center, where they consider it is not needed.

I personally live in Osceola and I think the light is needed in front of Osceola Center. Whether this person realizes it or not there is a school that is not very far from there where children do walk across that street.

I also think that yes, a light is needed in front of the Winn Dixie, but they also need to take into consideration the needs of the people who live in Osceola who do need that light to come in and out of the center and also for the children who do walk across that street.

I don't know if the caller realizes it, but we have children who walk across that street and go to that school and this light in front of Osceola Center is very much needed.

It also helps to slow down the traffic before they get to that school, Belle Glade Elementary, where my children attend.

Thank you."

School days are soon over - summer daze begins

Dear Readers:

Summer time is coming and the living ain't always easy. Kids are out of school with lots of energy, and often no place to go. It's hot, and they're restless. Rather than plopping them down in front of the TV for 3 months, it would be a useful opportunity to encourage them to pursue worthwhile interests. Encourage them to learn new things while having fun. Take them to the library and let them pick books they want to read. Splurge on some crayons, markers, and paper and let them draw up a storm! Take them on special trips when you have the time. (There is a great free park in Delray - call me and I'll give you directions).

Erich Fromm once wrote that people don't fear too little freedom, but fear too much freedom! The challenge is on your child (and therefore on you) to fill the summer void with productive leisure activities. It is a luxury to have no special demands placed upon you for a while - it is a challenge to make good use of this gift.

Give your child incentive. Promise them a special reward (allowance, dinner, trip, clothes; whatever they want that you can provide) if they will set and accomplish a significant summer task.

For those of you who would like some help with the preceding recommendations, I can direct you and your child towards a wonderful opportunity. The ALPHA programs in Pahokee and Belle Glade will be offering an outstanding Summer Booster Camp between June 24, and July 25. Kids will be offered tutoring, arts and crafts, organized sports, swimming, education, food service, and transportation to and from the camps!

If you are interested for your child (ages 6-14), please call Tonja Allen at 993-4053 in Belle Glade, or Alfreda Butler at 924-7834 in Pahokee. Remember, kids only get one chance to be kids. Please help yours make the most of this precious time!

Property Rights and the notion of givings

By John R. Smith

The James Madison Institute

Let's say you happen to own a fern farm in Volusia County and the state builds a highway nearby that causes the value of your land to rise considerably. Question: should you be required to compensate the government for "giving" you an increase in the value of your property?

This givings argument is put forth from time to time by some within the environmental and anti-growth movements. They argue that, just as government must pay a landowner when it takes his or her property for some public purpose, in turn, a landowner should pay the government when the property's value is benefited by some action of government. Usually ignored by those who advocate the notion of givings, however, is the fact that many, many ways already exist in which property owners compensate government for givings. Let's look at some of them:

• Front-foot assessments are almost always levied by city and county governments when they make improvements in a given neighborhood - installing curbs and sidewalks, for example.

• Real estate taxes are increased - usually forever -- when a given property's value rises for any reason, including actions taken by government.

• Capital gains taxes and stamp taxes frequently apply. If a landowner's property increases in value and he or she subsequently sells it at a profit, capital gains taxes are levied against that profit. At the same time, the amount of tax stamps required on the deed is also increased to reflect the higher sale price.

• Estate taxes also apply. If our hypothetical landowner holds on to his or her property until death he/she might escape those pesky capital gains taxes and stamp taxes, but the revenue agent is still there to collect the inevitably higher estate taxes.

"Attacks on people's right to own and to use their property...jeopardize the economic well-being of the entire nation."

So, in reality property owners do reimburse government for givings over time. The givings argument therefore should be rejected and should be recognized for what it is: an attempt to undermine property rights by those who would believe in an ever expanding, ever more powerful, ever more intrusive government.

As pointed out by Dr. James D. Gwartney in his illuminating economics primer, What Everyone Should Know About Economics and Prosperity, private property rights is one of the essential cornerstones of prosperity.

Attacks on people's right to own and to use their property threatens not only Constitutionally protected freedoms, they ultimately jeopardize the economic well-being of the entire nation.

National Garden Week celebrated by Pahokee Garden Club

By Shirlee Ingram, President

Pahokee Garden Club
National Garden week was a busy time for us at the Pahokee Garden Club. We met for a workshop at First Union Banks Community Room, where we made several floral arrangements of fresh cut flowers from our gardens.

We separated bromeliads, one of Aechnea fasciata, which actually comes from the tropical jungles of Central America and South America, where it lives attached to large trees.

This plant can thrive indoors all year round. Nearly all Bromeliads like consistent warmth and humidity. By-the-way they do not need much care, and produce a beautiful flower from the center of the funnel, which lasts for several weeks.

A small Rose arrangement was given to our Chamber of Commerce to add beauty and for the girls to enjoy.

We also have a Bromeliad for the Chamber, but since they will be closing for the summer we will deliver it when it opens in August. First Union Bank received a beautiful bromeliad and floral arrangement. We planted several bromeliads in the court yard area and more plants will be added at a later date.

On Thursday morning, we took a potted bromeliad to Everglades Regional Hospital to grace the desk areas of the hospital for all who enter to enjoy.

Several plants and floral arrangements were given to our members to enjoy since they have been unable to attend our meetings due to illness.

Many of our members exchanged plants and cuttings to add to our gardens.

Flowering trees and shrubs were planted in "Pioneer Park". Gee! what a difference it made to our park! "Always Creating Beauty" is our theme, and we hope we have shared what gardening is all about!

Pahokee High School AFJROTC's first senior class, "A CUT ABOVE"

Pahokee High School's, first year Senior Air Force JROTC class graduates 34

By Sulma Medina
Cadet Colonel
AFJROTC, Pahokee

The day has finally come - June 8 - senior graduation!

This also means the first senior Air Force JROTC class will be graduating from Pahokee Middle/Senior High School.

Our JROTC unit has come a long way since our first year. The past years have been filled with many different events and achievements.

Our first year, as a unit, was a difficult one. The students had to learn to be "JROTC cadets." (This meant learning to wear a uniform correctly, and following military customs and courtesies.)

During our first year, we established our first active honor guard and drill team, we participated in many different drill meets, and won numerous trophies. We also took field trips to Patrick Air Force Base in Cocoa Beach, and went to Airshows in Tampa. Our Honor Guard also opened up for city council meetings by presenting the colors. These events are to become traditional activities, for Pahokee, in the years to come.

Pahokee's JROTC unit didn't stop being involved in these types of activities when school ended. During the summer we participated in many different summer events.

For instance, during our first summer vacation we sent three cadets to Tyndall Air Force Base in Panama City, FL; 11 cadets to Patrick Air Force Base in Cocoa Beach, FL; and we sent four cadets to the National Kitty Hawk Convention. (Kitty Hawk is an honor society for JROTC cadets.)

As we progressed into our second year, so did our activities. Aside from keeping up with last year's events, JROTC also sent four cadets to Washington, D.C., to attend a Youth and Leadership Forum.

JROTC also had the honor of helping raise money for the family of a fellow cadet who passed away. We were able to help pay for part of the funeral expenses and also participate in the ceremony.

This final year for our senior JROTC cadets has been an equally memorable one. We've had many special events, and people, come to Pahokee Middle/Senior High School through our JROTC program.

Early in the year we had a spectacular performance by the President's drill team. We also had a distinguished Tuskegee Airman join us and speak on his experiences as a black combat pilot.

During the middle of the school year we attended a military field day in Boca Raton, open to all JROTC military branches in Palm Beach County. As expected, we came out on top with an overall winners trophy. This past May 15, we had an JROTC banquet to honor all of the cadets of Blue Force, and especially the seniors for their dedication and hard work.

At this ceremony we were honored with the most improved unit award from Headquarter Air Force. We were also selected as a meritorious unit, which places Pahokee in the top 40% of almost 600 Air Force JROTC units in the United States.

ROTC has definitely had an impact on the school, but what about the cadets?

Graduating from Pahokee Middle/Senior High School are 34 Air Force JROTC cadets.

Within this group exists seven cadets who are going directly into the military after high school.

Then there are the others who will be going into college to enter a ROTC program.

From this group there is one cadet who will be going to college on a full-paid Air Force scholarship, more than half of Pahokee's academic top ten are JROTC cadets - including the Valedictorian.

It looks as though JROTC has a knack for attracting and producing only the best! We do indeed live up to our motto "A CUT ABOVE."

There you have it. Pahokee's JROTC unit, and its seniors, have left a legacy and challenge for the rest of the cadets to live up to. I know the new cadets will accept this challenge and carry it a step further - to the top!

NOTE:

Pahokee Air Force Junior ROTC is open to students in the West Area, grades 9-12.

AFJROTC is a citizenship and leadership program and students do not have to go into the military to join the program. For further information call (561) 924-6423.

Don Salvatore has been awarded a full, four-year scholarship to UF

The United States Air Force ROTC Headquarters, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, has announced that Don Salvatore has been awarded a full, four-year scholarship to the University of Florida.

Criteria for the scholarship includes high academic achievement, leadership, and school / community service.

Mr. Salvatore was an honor graduate of this year's Pahokee Middle/Senior High School graduating class, a member of the National Honor Society, and a member of the Kitty Hawk Air Society.

Mr. Salvatore will begin school this summer and will be a member of the University of Florida's Air Force ROTC program.

Don is the son of Carmen III & Mary Salvatore of Pahokee.

Pahokee High School AF JROTC graduates first class of seniors

By Sulma Medina

Cadet Colonel
AFJROTC, Pahokee

Saturday, June 8 at one o'clock p.m., Pahokee High School celebrated its 1996 graduation.

Reflecting back on the year brings back many memories, both good and bad.

This year the AF JROTC unit will graduate its first class of seniors.

This year proved to be one of the best for our Varsity Basketball team. They had the opportunity to make it all the way to the state semi-finals.

We had great Homecoming events with Lakeitha Babb voted Ms. PHS and the President's Drill Team visited Pahokee and put on a spectacular drill performance.

We had a Tuskegee combat pilot give a motivational talk. We also attended our first county ROTC joint field day, and were the overall winners with six first place trophies, two second place, and three third place trophies.

Then there were the students who set records of their own. This year the class of 1996 received a total of more than $200,000 dollars in scholarship monies.

We were one of the 90 schools across the nation to have a Horatio Alger Scholar. We also had two Pathfinder winners, Jacarada Banks a Third place for Sports and Maryuri Rojas a Fourth place for Academic Excellence.

Daniel Mondragon was a Community Foundation winner and Nathaniel Thomas received a Florida Atlantic University SECME Scholarship.

For the first time, two seniors received Junior Achievement Scholarships: Don Salvatore received a full Air Force Scholarship to the University of Florida valued at $36,000; and Michelle Harris was our George Snow Home Town Hero Scholar.

Many of our seniors were recognized for their athletic talents: Kovey Jones received a scholarship to play football at Troy State University in Alabama; and Fred Smith received a partial football scholarship to Bethune Cookman College in the fall.

So, what does the future hold for these outstanding Pahokee High Seniors?

In a graduating class of 83 seniors: ten will enter the military; three will attend out-of-state colleges; 11 will attend in-state, four-year colleges; 27 will attend junior college; and seven will further their education at Vocational / Technical schools.

Among these 83 students have aspiring businessmen & women, writers, Army generals, Navy pilots, nurses, professional basketball/football players, Dental Hygienists, psychologists, computer scientists, lawyers, rock stars, engineers and teachers. Hopefully, ten years from now, when the class of 1996 has a reunion, we will come back successful in the careers we have chosen.

The Canal Point United Methodist Church family held a graduation celebration reception on Sunday, June 2, for Sulma Medina and Michael Hollon, their 1996 High School graduates.

The Maxson Fellowship Hall was decorated in the high school colors of both Pahokee High School and Glades Day School to honor the graduates.

Proudly, the church family recalled the lives of Sulma and Michael as they witnessed their development into the exceptionally successful young adults they have become.

Sulma is best known throughout the Glades as the Pahokee High School Valedictorian for 1996. She was Vice-President of Student Council, Secretary of National Honor Society, Member of the Kitty Hawk Air Society, and Corp. Commander of the School's ROTC Program. Her attainment of academic excellence throughout her school years was an encouragement to the teachers and staff of Kathryn E. Cunningham / Canal Point Elementary School, as she attended school there upon her family's arrival from Guatemala.

"She is one of ours!" is Canal Point's joyful exclamation. Sulma will attend the University of Florida this fall, majoring in Computer Science.

Michael Hollon is known for his athletic ability, as he was recognized throughout the Glades as a key player on the Glades Day varsity football team. He was also a member of the tennis team, and an actor in the senior play. He was one of four seniors who have attended Glades Day School, since starting school in first grade. Michael will attend Allan Hancock College in California, where he plans to play football, and major in medicine.

The Canal Point United Methodist Church is extremely proud of these, our 1996 graduates. We feel that in the years to come, the entire Glades will hear of these two young adults' accomplishments.

From throughout the state of Florida, over 2,000 United Methodists came together for their annual Conference last week. The theme for this year's Conference was "God's People in a Changing World".

One of the highlights of the conference was sharing in worship with Bishop Francisco Gustavo Cruz-Diaz, the United Methodist Bishop of Cuba.

A gift of $33,000, for new hymnals for the Cuban United Methodists, was presented to Bishop Cruz-Diaz.

The Community United Methodist Church was represented by Dr. Emil Wolf, Doug Thompson and Pastor Don McMillan.

The Canal Point United Methodist Church was represented by Janette Harrington Campbell, Dennis Wagner, and Pastor Jackie McMillan.

Dennis Wagner, a West Palm Beach District delegate, was elected to serve on the Conference Fellowship of Small Membership Churches Executive Committee.

This was a time of worship and praise to God for the empowerment of United Methodist ministry to a changing world.

District students receive a CBC Spouses Scholarship

U.S. Congressman Alcee L. Hastings (D-FL), 23rd Congressional District, recently announced that eight scholarships are being awarded to students from his district.

The Congressional Black Caucus Spouses Scholarship Fund Program, in conjunction with the CBC Foundation, awards tuition assistance grants to minority students who are currently enrolled or plan to enroll in an accredited college or university within the U.S.

The program began in 1988, in response to increased cuts in federal and state funding for higher education.

The CBC Spouses Scholarship Fund Program awards scholarships, annually, to students within the districts represented by CBC members. The recipients are chosen by a local selection committee composed of citizens in the fields of public policy, education, social work, business, and other professions.

Sixty-Seven students applied for eight $1,000 scholarships.

This year's recipients are: Nidhi Chandler, Ely High School; Ryan Curtis, Damon Central High School; Damon Gilliam, Okeechobee High School; Karac Levine, Nova High School; Valencia Myers, Johnson C. Smith University; Tinisha Tarver, Grambling University; Sheila Smart, Dillard High School; and Lashanda Ward, Dillard High School.

"These Scholarships make it a little easier for minority students, particularly African-Americans, to continue pursuit of academic excellence," said Hastings. "Without these scholarships, many of these students would not be able to gain the skills necessary to compete with their contemporaries in an advanced, technological society," Hastings added.

Congressman Hastings praised the CBC Spouses for "...their commitment to providing educational resources and opportunities for the next generation of leaders."

Gove Elementary gives thanks to
AT&T Volunteer Pioneers for map

The AT&T Pioneers of the Palm Beaches, Chapter 108, have been doing more than their share of good deeds for education. These life members have painted maps of the United States for Highland Elementary, Liberty Elementary, and Glades schools - Pioneer Park and Gove Elementary. This group also provided migrant schools with computers, a soup kitchen in Boynton Beach, and Hug-a bears for the Sheriff's Department, just to name a few of their projects.

The United States map is 40 x 30 ft., with bright colors to depict each state. They also donated a book with games to utilize the map. Fay and Elton Alford, Leven Miller, Sue Miller, Rose Manno, Fran Skillington, Lenet Boyd and Dottie Trudel worked all day to paint this special map on the floor of our Gove Elementary pavilion.

This map will compliment the Orienting Program started this year by the Physical Education Department at Gove. The students learned directions and how to follow a map of Mace Park. Gove Elementary would like to thank this special organization for their outstanding community service.

Three buses carrying parents, students, and staff from Glade View Elementary School traveled to West Palm Beach last Friday to watch the Expos play the Brevard County Manatees. It was Glade View's night at the Stadium.

The cheers for the Glade View Community rang out from the stands when Mrs. Glade Fulford, the school's principal, walked out to the pitchers mound and threw out the first ball of the game. Ms. Sofia Smith, a staff member at the school, sang the National Anthem. Two students, Shalonda Lester and Javarski Gibbons, were honorary bat girl and bat boy for the evening.

Although there was lots of cheering for the home team, the Expos lost the game 9-5.
